Cigars

All our cigars are long-filler & hand-rolled

Cuba

Montecristo, the Menendez and Garcia families founded the Montecristo brand in 1935 and since then it has gone on to become the best known and probably most widely appreciated brand. Allegedly it was the torcedores in the factory who chose the name after being read Alexandre Dumas' famous novel "The Count of Monte Cristo". Alfred Hitchcock was a devotee.

| Petit Edmundo | 21 |
| Petit Tubos | 18.50 |

Romeo Y Julieta, named after William Shakespeare's play, it was born in 1875. It came to prominence during the 20th century and was famously smoked by Sir Winston Churchill, whose name is commemorated on a band and to describe the brand's most famous size, the Churchill.

| | |
|-----------|-------|
| Churchill | 32.50 |
| No.3 | 16.50 |

Partagas, Don Jaime Partagas created the Partagas brand in 1845 and the factory he then opened at No. 520 Industria Street in the centre of Havana is still making the cigars today. It is now perhaps the most famous factory in the city and is visited by many tourists each year.

Cohiba, this is the flagship brand of Habanos and rapidly achieved mythical status since its creation in 1966 for none other than Fidel Castro himself. Originally it was only seen outside Cuba as gifts for important dignitaries and diplomats. Finally in 1982 it was launched to the world in limited quantities. When Columbus first arrived he saw the native Taino Indians smoking tobacco leaves in bunches that they referred to as "cohibas", hence the name.
